'LOOK INWARD, ANGEL'

I think it is amusing when underdogs are no longer underdogs and try the same technics they criticize until they reach "for a piece of the pie."

I think it is amusing how progressive religionists are when a format becomes popular or even competitive to traditional ways.

I think it is amusing how proprietary topdogs are until they find the shop they are keeping is way beyond the stretch of galluses and celluloid collars.

And I wonder why institutionalists have to see their institutions on the way down for a third time before they jump in front of movements they deny all along the way.

One of the things younger people oppose is competing with the order of things in a rout, then view the prospect of having to follow a line which is shifting, but never changing.

One of the things which Cameron has achieved is the ability to absorb ideas, not to prop up arguments, but to magnify the prospect of new dimension.

That may be as vague as an idea, until the nomenclature of a problem is fed into the idea's outline and shaped into a solution. Cameron has also learned to do that.

And the result is a somewhat iconoclastic movement which concedes reality, but not the impossibility of altering its historic pattern.

What we are succeeding at is conceptualizing downward. And what well might succeed is for this approach to be conceptualized upward: The town meeting approach in cities; turning an eclectic eye on ghettos, old downtowns; dashing the least against the established as if in court to see whose advocacy works; allowing excellence to identify by performance rather than selection; and so on.

Scanning a civic speech by a Baylor University associate dean the other day, I noted that Baylor students in 15 years have priorities on campus queen contests and what we used to call "Big Man On Campus" (BMOC).

This dean said students are more introspective, more interested in inner personal values than outward appearances. And would hazard a guess these are more than the religious values of a church school because all students are looking inward.

What she didn't say or wasn't reported as saying is that these students at Baylor would respond to a personification of these inner values if they thought they were seeing them materialize in what leaders say and do.

She also said students continue to respect leaders in specialized fields on campus. And in a day of specialization, even in athletics, this is normal.

Whenever the bright ones are looking inward, it will not be many years until youth will flex its insight outward, if indeed an inner view reveals value. The Orientals were passive for 3,000 years and are finally Westernizing to active societies.

Nothing compels people more than finding a new approach, perhaps only to an old problem, and putting it to a test. It is inevitable that some will try while finally the others will cheer them on, even in disgruntlement.

The hardest thing for youth is to ferret out a specious argument before its self-service audits out an older generation compelled to listen to alternatives.

Priorities for youth on Baylor Campus and on any other, for that matter, will emerge in control of this schizophrenic society or none will emerge at all. Risk is total or absent.

Tokenism is failing. Thomas Wolf this day would intone: "Look Inward, Angel."

Boy Scout Troop Plans Hobo Day For Camp Funds

A "Hobo Day" is being planned by local Boy Scout Troop 791 for Saturday as they take calls for work to earn money to attend a week's camp at Big Bend National Park.

The boys will take calls for any kind of work that day and anyone with work for the boys is asked to call Mrs. Carol Barr at 697-2147., or Mrs. Buck Wilkinson at 697-3968. Calls will be accepted in advance and also on Saturday.

The boys will leave Cameron May 31 early in the morning, traveling in a Hornung Bros. truck with a special sign painted for the trip, according to Scoutmaster Ernest Moore.

Blood Pressure Clinic Set For Cameron Area

Have you had your blood pressure taken lately? Blood pressure readings will be given free of charge at the Community Hypertension Clinic (CHEC) on Saturday, May 17 at Methodist Fellowship Hall from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Everyone is invited, and in fact, urged to participate. Co-sponsors for the CHEC program are St. Edward Hospital and the Noon Lions Club.

Everyone tested will be given a card with the blood pressure reading recorded on it. When an individual's reading is considered too high for his age and weight, he will be encouraged to consult with his doctor as soon as possible. However, more than one high reading is considered necessary before a person can be considered hypertensive.

Medical findings have demonstrated that early detection of high blood pressure, known medically as hypertension, and treatment lessens the probability of heart disease and stroke, two of the leading causes of death in the nation.

It is estimated that at least 23 million Americans have high blood pressure and that half of this number remain undetected. Because high blood pressure is often without symptoms, the person who has it may not be aware of it.

Residents in the area are urged to take advantage of this opportunity. Having your blood pressure taken is simple, fast, and absolutely painless.

Tax Rebates Rolling In

Tax rebates are being mailed out this month with hopes by the Administration that Americans will go out and spend them to boost the country's sagging economy.

An informal survey by The Herald shows that many of the rebates, of between $100 and $200, will be spent to pay old bills, although a number of the checks will be spent for durable goods.

Another help to the economy is expected in the form of fatter paychecks with lower witholding tax taking effect this month.

And farmers and businessmen will find their taxes lower at the end of the year.

For the average head of a family of four making $15,000 a year, the monthly increase will be $20.49. This means an extra $245.96 for that family to spend throughout the year.

Nationwide, the overall effect of this cut will be to put an extra $7.8 billion into the hands of working Americans. Combined with the rebates and $1.7 billion worth of $50 checks for those on Social Security, the result is a pretty healthy chunk of additional buying power.

"I'm going to put mine in our savings account," was the frequent answer to calls about how rebate checks are going to be spent. "We're going to pay on old bills," was another frequent answer.

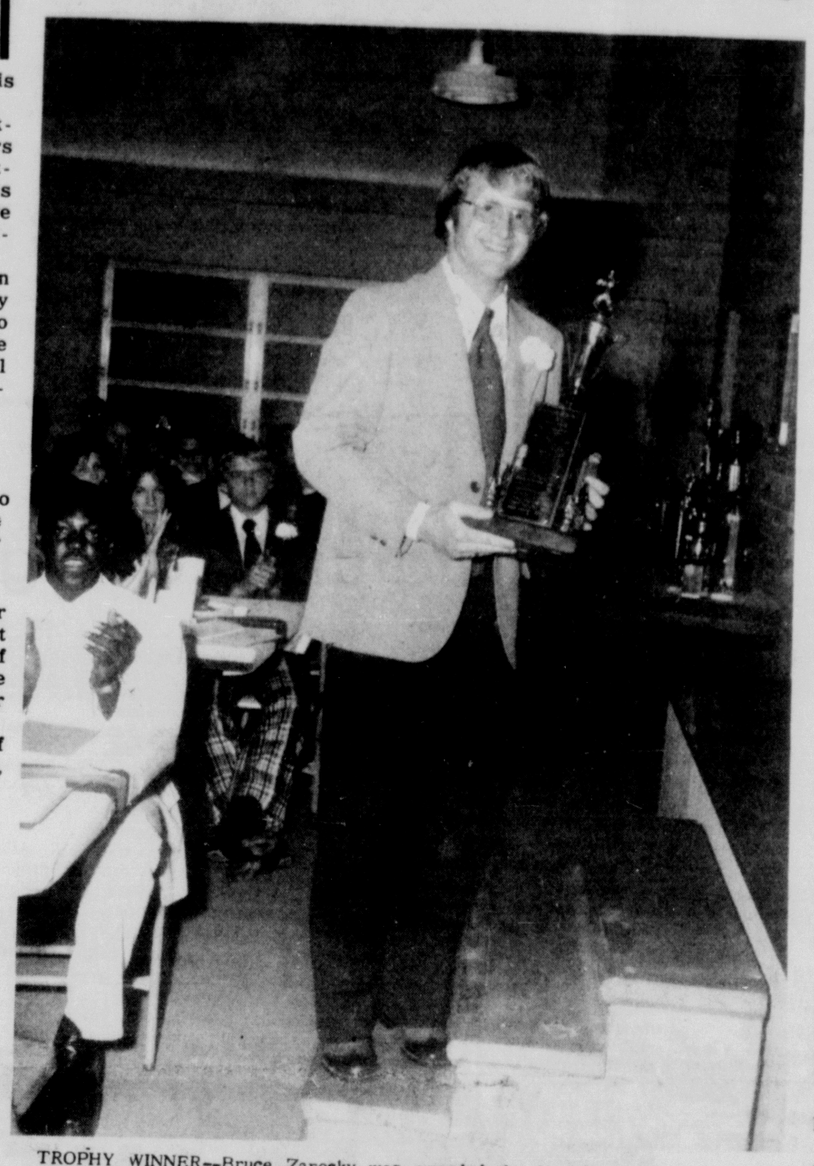
But some pledged to go out and spend their checks on something they could not otherwise afford, and some are gong to use the money for home furnishings, such as furniture, washers, dryers, or dishwashers.

A few said the rebate would help in the purchase of a car, but agreed that even $200 would not go very far in this day of price increases.

One man said his wife spent the money immediately at a dress shop and another said part of the money was going, as usual, to the grocery store.

But the most frequent answer was that the check would be spent in paying old bills or put in a savings account.

Commissioners Under Fire



TROPHY WINNER--Bruce Zarosky was awarded the Yoemen Booster Club trophy at the All - Sports Banquet. The trophy is given to the outstanding Yoeman of the year, based on football, scholastics, and citizenship. Bruce was one of the senior tri-captains and will be graduating May 30.

Milam County Commissioners Court is under fire by the Rockdale newspaper following its refusal to help pay for rural ambulance calls answered by the City of Rockdale.

At Monday's court meeting, County Judge O. B. Harden read part of a column in the Rockdale Reporter written by Bill Cooke, which castigates the court for its refusal to grant the request.

Rockdale had requested at an earlier court meeting that the county pay for unpaid ambulance calls and then try to collect them. The Rockdale city ambulance service charges $50 a call and City Mgr. Ernie Moore told commissioners that about half of these calls were not paid for.

Cooke, in his column, also pointed out that Rockdale pays for fire protection out of the city limits and for a landfill used by both urban and rural residents in south Milam.

Judge Harden recalled an incident some years ago when a Cameron firetruck was overturned and its driver killed while answering a call to a fire at Alcoa. Harden said Cameron paid for the new fire truck.

Harden said he had talked with Henry Ivey, Farmers Home Administration manager, and that human services can be paid for by bonds at 5 percent for 40 years. "Human services" bonds may serve cities or precincts, and include fire, ambulance calls, possibly landfills, and other services.

Commissioners said $50 a call made for a "high priced drive."

Commissioner Gerald Vinton pointed out that the county still owes Rockdale for fire calls in 1974, some of which were paid but most not paid. County Auditor John Andres said he had not received a bill from the Rockdale fire department for other calls in 1974.

In other business, commissioners awarded bid for a tractor and shredder for Commissioner Dalton Caffey's precinct. Only bid was from Gaither Ford Sales who bid $9,624.91 with tradein.

Commissioners were sworn in by County Clerk Wayne Wieser as an equalization board, to hold its first meeting Monday, June 2.

Commissioners also approved the county's part in the Milam County Health Unit budget for 1975.

Judge Harden reported that a presentation would be made at Thursday's court meeting of the Bell County Mental Health-Mental Retardation program which includes Milam County.

Police Report Mishaps, Arrest Over Weekend

Cameron police reported a cutting, an arrest for burglary, and a two car accident over the weekend, but no serious injuries were suffered by any of the participants.

A Rockdale man, Marcario Perez, was treated and released Sunday night for cuts on the head and neck at St. Edwards Hospital.

Police arrested a Temple man, Vincentee Martinez, in connection with the incident which took place outside Vega's bar in Cameron.

Michael Simmons, 17, of Cameron, was arrested by police Friday and charged with the burglary of the Mattie Baggerley home at 110 North College on May 5. Simmons was charged before Justice of the Peace Jess Brock, who set bond at $1,000.

A Lubbock woman, Mrs. Patricia Harris, was treated and released at St. Edward Hospital after a two-car accident at Fourth and Travis Saturday at 12:10 p.m. Her vehicle slammed into the rear of a car driven by Mary Hanel of Cameron. No other injuries were reported.

Deadline Nears For Folk Fete Chili Cookoff

The June 5 deadline for entering this year's first Folk Fete chili cookoff is nearing, and contestants are urged to contact Johnny Barrett, Box 564, Cameron, to enter.

The cookoff will be held Sunday, June 8, starting at 1 p.m. with judging starting at 5 p.m., giving plenty of time for entrants to prepare their "bowl of red."

All entries will be judged in one division, with trophies to be awarded the four top winners.

This event, along with music, dancing, singing, kiddie rides, foods and drinks, will be held at the National Guard Armory on June 6, 7, and 8

Trustees Vote Repairs For Gym

School trustees are agreed that a new gym cannot be built with present funds and voted to make extensive repairs to the present gym and investigate the possibility of remodeling gym classrooms to be used as science classrooms.

Meeting in regular session Monday evening, trustees heard that an estimate of repairs to the gym would be at least $15,000, but this is only an estimate.

Work planned includes plumbing, new gas lines, work on drainage, heaters, and partitions which have rotted out on both boys and girls sides, and adding a dressing area for girls.

Supt. Buddy Dulin noted that an architect's report stated that the old gym is relatively sound although cracking walls are unsightly, especially in the classrooms. Trustees will study the feasability of remodeling upper classrooms to be used as science classrooms, with lower classrooms used for health classes.

Previous plans had called for science classrooms to be built next to Yoe High School.

Frank Luecke, editor-publisher of The Herald, asked trustees why bids had not been taken on construction of the new field house and why there had been an overage on price. Bill Hornung told Luecke that "we figured we could build it cheaper" by the board being its own contractor. Luecke said a figure of $30,000 over estimate had been quoted to him. He also asked if it is board policy not to take bids on building. Board President Calvin Cobb said inflation had hit hard last year, raising costs of the building. Supt. Dulin said that was before his time, but said there had been a "poor estimate" made.

In other business, the board voted to place the Milam County Farm Bureau on the approved teacher retirement annuity conract for the school.

Five bids were read on selling the old Yarrellton school building and land and high bid was awarded to L. T. Slavik for $2.450. Other bids were $1,025 from Olen Armstrong, $1,226 Frazel Bros.; $1,800, Elmer T. Gibbs; and $1,225.13, E. C. Boecker.

Low bid of $2,910 was awarded to W. M. Wright Co. of Austin to refinish the gym floor at O. J. Thomas school. Other bid was for $3,200 from Northern Flooring and Door Co. The work will be done this summer.

Trustees also discussed the lack of doors on restroom stalls and Supt. Dulin will study for a future report.

Board approved purchase of commercial size chicken fryers for cafeterias, mixer stands, a freezer for junior high for a total of $3,892. Dulin said the state will pay 75 percent of the cost, leavng $973 cost to the schools.

Bids will be requested on a new boiler for Yoe High since only limited insurance coverage is available on the old boiler and insurance costs $500 a year.

The resignation of Mrs. Mary Ann Richardson was accepted and reassignment of Janice Lindemann for a junior high girls coach was approved. Four teachers were hired, including Linda Dvrak for high school girls coach, Mrs. Gaye Marburger for elementary, Mrs. Betty Duderstadt for either elementary or junior high, Miss Cheryl Emmanuel, junior high English.

Board discussed hiring a Spanish teacher to help out with language problems among Latin American students. Latin American enrollment was 11 percent last year and Dulin said many of the children cannot speak English when they start school.

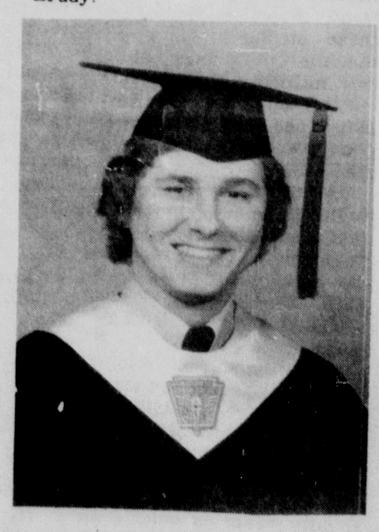
Board agreed to hire Gary Beach as assistant band director and choir director upon recommendation by band director Jerry Bartley. Beach's wife will be able to teach twirling.

Bartley was praised for his work with the bands, and a letter from the manager of the Master Host Inn at Corpus Christi was read, commending the "Fine performance of the Yoe High Band" during its stay for the Buccaneer Days parade. The letter said that the group of students "well represents your school system" and called them "a fine group and most well behaved."

Trustees Appoint Member

Buckholts school trustees meeting Monday night appointed Ray Harris to replace Richard Crowe on the board. Harris will serve until the next trustee election, according to Supt. Leon Brady.

VALEDICTORIAN for Yoe High seniors is Janet Laura Vansa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Vansa of Rt. 2, Buckholts. Her four year grade average is 94.94.5. She has been a member of the National Honor Society for three years, Junior historians two years, three years in FHA, scholastic achievement award all four years.



SALUTATORIAN for Yoe High seniors is Ladis Thomas Slavik, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Slavik of Rt. 2, Buckholts. His four year grade average is 94.17.5. Ladis has been a member of the National Honor Society for three years, Junior Historians two years, Slide Rle Club two years, and Science Fair three years.

Market Moving Up...

Good news among cattlemen: the market is up.

Local auction prices were up $1 to $3, approximating $40 on the average.

It has been perhaps a year and one-half since the market turned gloomy, if not doomy.

This sector of agriculture has stayed clear of controls, taken its losses and appears headed for rebound.

It's a hard road, but one that leaves the cattlemen comparatively free to regain a tedious, sometimes disastrous market

A lot of cattlemen probably wonder if it's worth it. But when the price is profitable, they know it is.

Smiling With Deadline...

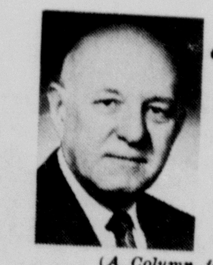
We wonder if people understood the last paragraph of the NOW column of May 12.

It might have read better when Deadline said: "Wouldn't you know? You (NOW) get a laugh out of hurting (my) ancestral vitals. I'm right: you have no sense of humor at all!"

The latter meant that Deadline's ancestors contributed to gut strings in the racket. It was NOW saying: "When ever I zing a service ace, I smile to myself."

Deadline is the Herald's pet white cat, who runs things around and puts a sense of humor in the place. Staff has about concluded she knows more about newspapering than anybody, because she can sleep through the deadlines and smile at the end of the day.

It's getting so we smile when she smiles.



"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

$500,000 SPENT FOR JAW CLENCHING STUDY

SEN. WILLIAM PROXMIRE (Wis.) " . . .My choice for the "Golden Fleece" Award for the biggest waste of taxpayer's money. . goes jointly to the National Science Foundation, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and the Office of Naval Research for spending almost $500,000 in the last 7 years to determine under what conditions, rats, monekys, and humans bite and clench their jaws. From the findings of these studies, it is clear that the Government paid a half million dollars to find out that anger, stopping smoking, and loud noises produce jaw clenching-in people. . .

"All this money was given to Dr. Roland Hutchinson of Kalamazoo State Hospital in Michigan. Last year alone the good doctor spent over $200,000 of which more than $100,000 were Federal funds. . .

"Dr. Hutchinson told NASA that people get angry when they feel cheated and tend to clench their jaws or even scream and kick. . .In addition, NSF was informed that drunk monkeys do not usually react as quickly or often as sober monkeys and that hungry monkeys get angry more quickly than well-fed monkeys.

"Dr. Hutchinson, who in addition to being research director at Kalamazoo State Hospital, is also an adjunct professor at Western Michigan University and president of his own nonprofit Foundation for Behavior Reserach, has proposals presently pending before the NSF and the National Institute of Drug Abuse . . .to continue research on monkeys drinking, drug, and jaw-clenching habits. If Dr. Hutchinson is successful in this new grantsmanship attemp, he would receive an additional $150,000 of the taxpayer's money. . .The funding of this nonsense makes me almost angry enough to scream and kick or even clench my jaw.

"Dr. Hutchinson's studies should make the taxpayers, as well as his monkeys, grind their teeth. In fact, the good doctor has made a fortune from his monkeys and in the process made a monkey out of the American taxpayer.

"It is time for the Federal Government to get out of this "monkey business." In view of the transparent worthlessness of Hutchnson's study of jaw-grinding and biting by angry hard-drinking monkeys, it is time we put a stop to the bite Hutchinson and the bureaucrats who fund him have been taking of the taxpayer.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

The taxpayer's money is appropriated by congressmen. The Senator should list the congressmen who voted for the "monkey business" program.

NEED SERVICE FROM STATE GOVERNMENT?

Legislature Racing On To Finish

The Legislature is racing toward its closing date with most of its major assignments unfinished but with reasonable hopes of finishing many of them.

School finance debate began this week in the House, while the Senate Education Committee wrestled with its version of how to help equalize educational opportunity.

When all is said and done, a bill in the $600 million range seems likely to emerge, with school teachers assured of a starting pay of $7,600 to $8,000 a year.

The Senate has passed a bill to establish a three-member statewide utilities regulatory commission, and the action this week switches to the House where a rival measure is pending.

Conference committees will get the job of working out differences between the two houses over both school finance and utilities regulation. Final agreement on a utilities bill is a reasonable expectation.

Two-year budgets have now been drawn by both the Senate Finance and House Appropriations Committees. Both are expected to leave close to $600 million in unobligated revenues—most of which will go into the schools.

Some expect Comptroller Bob Bullock to revise his income forecasts to show $677 million in unspent revenues over and above the budget.

REDISTRICTING APPROVED

A prolonged fight over single-member House of Representatives districts has been settled in the House — but with minority groups still unhappy.

The House agreed on an omnibus redistricting measure for Travis, Jefferson, McLennan, Tarrant, Lubbock, Nueces, El Paso, Galveston and Hidalgo counties. Senate approval is still required.

Jefferson, Tarrant and Nueces county spokesmen threatened a challenge in federal court.

PENSIONS SWEETENED

Legislators, with few knowing what they were doing, approved substantial improvements in their retirement benefits.

House amendment, never debated before adoption, altered a state employee and officials' retirement system overhaul to gear elected officers pensions to pay of district judges. That would mean legislators with 30 years' service could get $18,600 a year in retirement pay, instead of the present $10,800 maximum.

After newspaper criticism of the undebated action, both House and Senate went back and passed a resolution endorsing their decision and urging the governor to sign the bill.

PARK BUY URGED

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong is seeking $8 million to buy 220,000 acres west of Big Bend National Park for about $36 an acre.

Armstrong has advised legislative committees the area has mineral production possibilities as well as vast tourist attraction potential.

There are 700,000 acres in Big Bend Park.

COURTS SPEAK

The State Supreme Court reversed itself and concluded in a 6-3 decision that San Marcos has authority to turn down a Lower Colorado River Authority electrical rate hike.

The High Court affirmed a $358,180 judgment against Ford Motor Company as the result of a defective car which overturned near Waco, seriously injuring the owner.

In still another case, the Supreme Court agreed to dismiss a motion to review a $25 million divorce settlement against F. Lutcher Brown at Houston.

A Houston man won reversal of a 15-year sentence for murder because the prosecutor raised questions about his juvenile record.

AG OPINIONS

Allocation provisions of a proposed refinery tax do not violate the constitution, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- The Department of Public Safety can ask information on a person's race and sex on the driver's confidential accident report.
- Present composition of The University of Texas System board of regents is not illegally constituted.
- Where a part of a county's federal revenue sharing funds can be identified as solely attributable to taxing efforts of a hospital district, the money can be transferred to the hospital.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I know President Ford has said we ought to forget about the Viet Nam war and turn our thoughts to other things here at home, and I intend to, but there's one last thing I'd like to say.

As I understand it, one of the stated reasons for our being over there was the domino theory, that if South Viet Nam fell to the Communists, then another country would, then another, and another, like dominoes do when you stand them on end in a row and push the first one over.

I have thought this over and while I haven't figured out who stood those countries on end in the first place and who set them up in rows, I followed the war in the newspapers and on televsion, noticing that the more we bombed the less we won, that the Generals who kept saying they could see the light at the end of the tunnel didn't seem to know the war wasn't in a tunnel, it was out in the jungles. In fact, we went through countless tunnels, only to find they led to nowhere.

Therefore I've come to the conclusion that the game over there wasn't dominoes it was checkers.

But it wasn't played by the rules of checkers used here in Cameron.

The Viet Cong played like all its checkers were kings from the start of the game and you could move them forward or backward any time you pleased and jump in any direction you wanted and over as many spaces as you liked. If it looked like they were losing, they'd grab their checkers and move to another board in another part of the jungle.

I don't know why it never occurred to our leaders that you can't play dominoes on a checker board.

And the thing I guess we'd better be thinking about is that the Generals who kept saying we've got the Viet Cong and the North Vietnam'es mortally weakened and on the run, all we need is a few hundred thousand more men and a few more billion dollars and we'll have the victory by Christmas, are the same Generals who will be in charge if the U.S. ever gets into a really genuine war of survival.

President Ford is right, we ought to turn our thoughts to something else, and that may be one of them.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

CAVEAT EMPTOR

"Let The Buyer Beware"

IF EVER AN INDUSTRY WAS IN A STATE OF CHANGE, IT'S REAL ESTATE RIGHT NOW! YOU ARE WELL AWARE REAL ESTATE HAS BEEN A SLEEPING GIANT, JUST NOW BEGINNING TO FEEL IT'S POWERS IN MILAM COUNTY AND CAMERON, TEXAS.

THIS CAN BE AN EXCELLENT INVESTMENT, PROVIDED YOU BUY WITH A FULL KNOWLEDGE OF ALL THE USES AND PURPOSES FOR WHICH A PROPERTY IS ADAPTED AND IS CAPABLE OF BEING USED.

THE BOOM IN COUNTRY PROPERTY IS AGAIN ACCELERATING AND RISING TO NEW PEAKS. IT IS A FACT THAT FARMLAND HAS ALMOST DOUBLED IN AVERAGE VAULE IN THE PAST 15 YEARS ALONE AND THERE IS NO MISTAKING THE CONTINUING POWER BEHIND THE TREND. AGAINST A BASE OR INDEX OF 100 FOR 1957-59 AND A RECENT NATIONAL AVERAGE OF 189, FOR INSTANCE, THE INDEX IN THE SOUTHWEST IS 237.

WHATEVER THE DREAM, THE FACT IS THAT WHEN FARMLAND EXCHANGES HANDS TODAY A FULL 40 PER CENT OF THE TRANSFERS INVOLVE BUYERS OTHER THAN FARMERS, AND AMONG THOSE THAT PURCHASE PROPERTY FOR NON-FARMING USES, INNOCENT, IGNORANT FUGITIVES FROM THE CITY ARE PROMINENT. HOWEVER, DON'T BELIEVE THAT THEY ARE ALL DUMB, JUST BECAUSE SOME SALE THAT YOU HAVE HEARD OF REPRESENTS A TYPICAL BUYER AND THAT THE PRICE PAID IS NOW THE "MARKET VALUE" OF THAT PARTICULAR PROPERTY.

THERE ARE MANY PITFALLS IN BUYING PROPERTY, EITHER FOR PLEASURE OR AS AN INVESTMENT, THE FOLLOWING ARE A FEW:

(1) INADEQUATE WATER SUPPLY, (2) INADEQUATE SOIL TO SUPPORT A SEPTIC TANK, (3) LACK OF A SURVEY CERTIFIED BY A LICENSED ENGINEER OR SURVEYOR, (4) LACK OF AN ESTIMATE FOR INSTALLING ELECTRICITY, ASSUMING NONE EXISTS ON THE LAND, (5) INADEQAUTE THEFT AND LIABILITY INSURANCE, (6) OVERAMBITIOUS PLANS FOR BUILDING OR IMPROVING PROPERTY, (7) UNWILLINGNESS TO "DO IT THE COUNTRY WAY."

HOW DO YOU AVOID THESE DANGERS? JUST THIS LISTING OF THEM IS A PROTECTION FOR YOU ARE NOW AWARE OF WHAT TO LOOK OUT FOR. AND THEN OBEY THE FUNDAMENTAL RULES. GET A LICENSED REAL ESTATE BROKER SELECTED WITH CARE WHO HAS A REPUTATION FOR INTEGRITY AND A KNOWLEDGE OF LOCAL VALUES; HIRE A COUNTRY LAWYER; WITH THESE TWO ON YOUR SIDE, YOU'LL BE AHEAD FROM THE START. YOU'LL MORE THAN OFFSET THE FEES YOU ARE CHARGED IN SAVINGS OF YOUR TIME, POTENTIAL HEADACHES, AND POSSIBLY MONEY TOO.

4-H News

Saturday, May 3, the Rosebud-Lott FFA chapter held its annual Junior Livestock Show. Six Milam County 4-H'ers took their animals to the show and came home with several of the honors.

Gery Hollas of Cameron 4-H had the Grand Champion Dairy Cow with a Brown Swiss. Peter Riola was 4th, also with a Brown Swiss. Shari Spence of Rockdale 4-H won 1st in her class with a Guernsey heifer. Shari also won the Best Groomed Dairy Animal award.

In the beef heifer division, Wynona Scroggins of Thorndale 4-H won first and second in the Brangus heifers division; Rhonda Scroggins won 1st, 4th, and Reserve Grand Champion also with Brangus heifers. Kenny Patin, also of Thorndale 4-H won 4th and 4th in the Polled Hereford division.

County Agent's Notes

Spraying Dates Set For Pecans

By Bill McCutchen

The pecan crop is looking good in every section of the county that I have checked and homeowners and commercial producers alike should be thinking about doing the best job possible with the crop that is started.

The spray dates for the first generation pecan nut casebearer, the first hurdle to cross in making a pecan crop, looks to be May 15-21. J. D. Moore of Cameron said that he had 50% hatch from his casebearer pupae on May 6 which would indicate these spraying dates; and Gene Angell, Charlie Mayer, and I found a few freshly laid eggs in the Little River bottom on May 6.

These eggs take about 5 days to hatch and then the young larvae feed on buds and young terminal growth for 2-3 days before entering the nutlets.

If you only have a few trees and can spray all of them in one day, and want to time them exactly, check 100 clusters of nutlets closely each day after the 14 or 15 and when you find 2 to 3% of the clusters with damage from the casebearer spray at this time.

Producers with larger orchards taking several days to cover will need to start applications on May 15.

Materials recommended for control include either Guthion, Thiodan, Malathion, or Zolene. Matathion is the only material with no grazing restrictions. See labels for rates and other information.

For pecan scab, and quite a bit is already showing up, use either Duter, Benlate, or Cyprex.

Don't forget to include zinc sulphate at 2 to 3 pounds per 100 gallons of water.

All of these materials are compatable. You can make your casebearer control application, your disease control application, and your zinc application all at the same time.

Rep. Head Asks U.S. Ban On Beef

A resolution passed by the Texas House of Representatives calling on Congress to impose a six-month ban on all beef imports is now on its way to President Ford, Vice-president Nelson Rockefeller, Agricultural Sec. Earl Butz, and all members of the Texas congressional delegation.

State Representative Fred Head, of Athens, author and sponsor of the resolution, noted that he was pleased with the "broad-bases support for this measure."

Citing his reasons for requesting a ban on all foreign beef, Head explained, "Today's cattlemen are finding themselves caught in a serious cost-price squeeze, while Texas housewives are paying increasingly higher prices for foreign beef that is not subject to the same standards as domestic beef."

"When imported beef and beef by-products compete with our superior quality American beef, then prices become artificially low, and ranchers can't get a fair return on their investment," Head noted, adding that feedlot operators are 'hurtin for certain' because they are selling their cattle to meat packing companies and other wholesalers and retailers at a lower price than they paid for them."

Gardeners May Have To Replant

Home vegetable gardeners are highly susceptible to high winds, heavy rains, and hail contained in spring thunderstorms in Texas. And recent weather has taken its toll.

"Damage is ofte n widespread, and then decisions must be made as to whether to leave the damaged plants in the garden or to start over and replant," points out Sam Cotner.

"Some plants such as squash, cucumbers, and beans often receive heavy damage," says Cotner, a vegetable specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "They generally recover slowly, if at all, so it is often best to replant. If there is sufficient room, the less damaged plants can be left while the remainder of the crop is replanted."

According to Cotner, most vegetable seed will germinate rapidly now that the soil has warmed, so replanting is often the best alternative. Of course, if transplants can be obtained, the gardener can gain several weeks of valuable growing time.

In many areas it is too late to replant some garden crops such as potatoes, carrots, cauliflower, and other cool season vegetables.

"Due to late season cool weather, spring gardens have generally been making limited growth until the past several weeks," points out the specialist. "So, even though replanting will bring some delays, these may not be quite as great this year due to overall seasonal conditions."

Whether gardeners leave damaged plants to recuperate or whether they decide to replant, the overall delay in home vegetable production will mean closer attention to care and maintenance of the growing plants in the coming months, emphasizes Cotner. "Insects will become more active as the growing season progresses, so plants must be checked more closely and control measures taken as the situation warrants. Also, watering will become more critical as the growing season enters the hot summer months.

"Adversity such as that resulting from severe weather damage tests the 'ture grit' of the home gardener," says Cotner. "It makes him realize that vegetable production isn't all 'peaches and cream' and that all the fresh produce at the supermarket doesn't just happen. Hopefully, however, it will bring all home gardeners closer to nature and to living things, and will instill in them the will to try again."

For the best advice on what to plant in your area, contact your county Extension agent or your local nurseries.

Fertilizer Study Under Way

A system for determining what the soil mositure "bank account" is or the probability will be, then fertilizing "up to that potential" is under study in a research project in the Texas Blacklands.

"In an area where rainfall is quite variable and may sometimes limit yields, this system should allow reasonable nitrogen fertilizer recommendations to be made based on the stored soil water available to the crop," explains Dr. David E. Kissel, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station associate professor in soil chemistry. He is located in the Blackland Research Center at Temple.

Researchers assisting are C. W. Richardson, agricultural engineer; and Dr. Joe T. Ritchie, soil scientist, with the Agricultural Research Service, USDA, at the Center.

The concept is simple: Fertilize for yields possible with the moisture avaiiable. Research goals are to improve nitrogen fertilizer efficienty and reduce waste and losses, the researchers explain.

A system worked out for Blackland conditions involves use of economic optimum nitrogen fertilizer rates based on four factors that concern individual farm operators: (1) nitrogen costs, (2) expected grain sorghum price, (3) stored soil moisture, (4) month of nitrogen application. The system describes drought stress in terms of "stress days,"

Wheat Harvest Underway . . . Carryover To Be Up Substantially in 1976 . . . Crops Progressing . . . How Many Sunflowers? . . . Texas In Top Ten . . . Rice Planting

The 1975 wheat harvest is underway in South Texas; less than five per cent of the bountiful crop has been harvested to date. And while that is going on in the southern portion of the state, wheat is making excellent progress across the rest of Texas with the crop now headed out.

Nationwide prospects for the 1975-76 season range from slightly more than two billion bushels to around two and a quarter billion bushels.

Projected production for the 1975-76 marketing year for all wheat ranges from two to two and a quarter million bushels. Total supply ranges around 2.5 million bushels. Carryover as of June 30, 1976, is expected to be around 450 million bushels; this year's carryover as of June 30 is anticipated to be around 230 million bushels.

MEANWHILE, CROP PROSPECTS throughout the state continue to brighten. Cotton planting is about 20 per cent completed, which is slightly behind 1975 plants at this time. Planting is virtually completed, except for some replanting in the Blacklands and Trans-Pecos areas. Seedbed preparation is about finished on the High and Low Plains, and the first of the 1975 crop is now in the ground in that area.

Sorghum planting is more than 60 per cent finished; sorghum in the Rio Grande Valley is headed out. A few early stands have been planted in the High and Low Plains.

Peanut seeding for the state is about a fourth completed.

Corn planting is about two-thirds completed compared with about 90 per cent at this time a year ago.

HOW MANY ACRES are planted to sunflowers in Texas this year? That's one of the questions the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service is going to find out in its crop questionnaire.

About 24,000 crop questionnaires go in the mail this week to producers throughout the state.

TEXAS TALK

By Skip Hobbs

After the Rough Riding was over, Teddy Roosevelt spent a lot of time making what he hoped would be remembered as profound statements. One of those is proving itself more every year . . . "We cannot afford to lose that preeminently typical American, the farmer who owns his own land." Many theories abound. Robert Aubrey lists it as a manifestation of what he calls the "Territorial Imperative." Others observe simply that a man will work harder for himself than for someone else. Undoubtedly true, but another, immeasurable factor is involved . . . pride. American farmers are proud to be able to each produce enough for themselves and 50 others. And they're smart. Smart enough to use the right portions of ecology, mechanization, chemical know-how and management to make the same land produce more every year. In 65 years production per acre has increased more than 620 percent. The Rough Rider was right, we can't afford to lose the family farmer.

Church Sponsors Mothers Day Program

By Mrs. Wanda Lee

The rain Sunday put a damper on the dinner under the trees after the Mothers Day Homecoming program, and everyone didn't get to visit as usual but the program was so good I think everyone will remember it. Floyd Hefley was master of ceremonies, Jimmy Harris led the singing of the traditional theme song, "Church In The Wildwood."

Helen Harris and Preston Bowling played the musical instruments and Rev. Thomas Dusek, pastor of the Baptist Church gave the invocation and Rev. Billy Sparks, pastor of the Apostolic Church, gave the welcome. Special music was presented by grandchildren of Mrs. D. W. Key. Gilmer Gaston read the scriptures.

Speaker for the program was Mrs. Edrie Browder who gave a most interesting talk on the activities that our community of Gause is involved in. Rev. Jesse Jones gave the benediction.

Flowers were presented to Mrs. Teresa Kornegay of Garland 80 years as being the oldest mother present and Mr. Bob Kornegay of Gause age 81 as being the oldest father. There was a good group present for the first time, and people came from all parts of the state and several from out of state the furtherest being from California.

The family with the most family members present was the family of the late Will and Maggie Spraggins.

Around 150 out of town people signed the register and that was no where near the number of out of towners at the homecoming. Even though everyone didn't register we invite you all back next year.

On our way home we were talking about the rains messing up the picnic and Lance knew what we should have done--- we should have eaten first and then had the program!

Correction

In the story about the Milam County Farm Bureau queen contest, The Herald had a date wrong. It should have read: "To be eligible a girl must be a daughter or sister of a Farm Bureau member in Milam County as of April 6, 1975.

Nursing Home News

By Mabel Lawhon
Activities Director

A stirring Mother's day program was given by Mrs. Maurina Corley and Mrs. Katherine Thomas on April 7. Our patients were overwhelmed by the beautiful singing of our guest. They especially enjoyed "Amazing Grace," "Mother McCree," "How Great Thou Art," and "Let Me Touch Him." All express their appreciation for their program.

A delightful puppet show and party was given by Mrs. and Mrs. Dan McDaniel and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Cobb on Sunday afternoon, April 27. Mrs. McDaniel read the Bible story of "The Parable of the Unforgiving Servant" from Matthew 18:21-35. Mr. McDaniel and Mr. Cobb told the story with puppets.

They also did a child's skit "What He Had Learned at the Church of Christ Youth Services" and a portrayal of "An Old Time Camp Meeting."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lawhon with the help of Mrs. McDaniel and Mrs. Cobb.

Sunday services for April 20 were delivered by Mr. Arthur Smith, a resident of the home. Mr. Smith was assisted by Mrs. Nelson Green. Mrs. Edna Wilkerson and Mrs. Myrtle Smith led the singing with Miss Mary Carleton as pianist.

The residents were entertained with slides of Carlsbad Cavern and Big Bend National Park on Wednesday, April 23. Mrs. Lawhon narrated the films.

Thursday church services for April 24 were held by Rev. John Homerstad and May 1 services were held by Father John Geiser.

Sunday services, April 27 and May 4, were held by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Green and Miss Mary Carleton as pianist.

Current events presented by Mrs. Nelson Green were enjoyed by our patients on Wednesday, April 30. She presented a series of amusing stories fromthe Dallas Morning News. There were several articles on farming on the south plains of Texas from Paul Crume's Column "Big D"-- a favorite of Mrs. Green.

Miss Forbes Speaks At Meeting

Twenty-seven members of Beta Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met in the home of Mrs. Roy Hensley of Cameron, chapter president, for a tea Saturday, May 3 at 2:30 p.m.

Miss Frances Forbes of Marlin presented the Founders Day Program. She introduced the subject, and Mrs. Carolyn Kropp of Marlin gave brief discriptions of the 12 founders with their dedication and purpose in founding the organization to promote learning for all children.

Mrs. Thaggard Kirkpatrick of Reagon stated that these women lighted the torch of education and passed it to the hands of present-day teachers. She stated, "All our yesterdays have made all we have today, and it is up to teachers of today to make the tomorrows."

Mrs. Sidney Hughes of Marlin was piano accompanist for thegroup singing of the Delta Kappa Gamma song.

The refreshement table was centered with an arrangment of spring flowers. Table appointments were crystal and silver. Punch, coffee, and an array of sandwiches and cookies were served by the Cameron members of the chapter.

The next meeting will be Rosebud for a breakfast, in September.

Mrs. Plentl Retires From Rosebud Schools

Rosebud Primary School is losing a teacher this year by retirement. Mrs. Ruby Plentl, who has commuted from near Cameron for the past ten years to teach in Rosebud's primary school is retiring.

Mrs. Plentl's teaching career began in the 1930s and spans a period of 30 years: 9 at the 2-teacher school of Walker's Creek; 1 at the all Latin-American school of Splawn; 10 in Burlington until consolidation with Rosebud in 1965; and the past 10 in Rosebud.

She was born and reared near Cameron in Milam County, and graduated from Yoe High School in 1929. She attended Baylor University and Mary Hardin-Baylor, receiving her B.S. degree in 1963 from Mary Hardin-Baylor College.

She married Gus Plentl of Cameron in 1934 and has three children; Mrs. Bill Morris of Lometa, Ron Plentl of Sweetwater, and Larry Plentl of Houston. She also has three grandchildren and one great granchild. Mr. Plentl died this year in March.

She belongs to the Baptist Church in Cameron, the TSTA, and the Falls County Unit of the TSTA.

Her plans are to continue living in her home on Highway 77 near Cameron, manage a small cattle ranch near Ben Arnold, sleep late, and visit friends and relatives, especially her children and grandchildren. Her 86-year-old father lives in Cameron, and she plans to spend more time with him.

MRS. RUBY PLENTL

Her years of teaching have been happy ones. She says, "I'll miss all the children, faculty members, and parents. Just being with little children is a rewarding experience which is bound to be missed after such a long association as a teacher." And it is certain the children will miss her, too!

Girl Scout Troup Visits New Jail

Junior Girl Scout Troop 403 visited the new jail. A special thanks to Sheriff Black and his deputies for the grand tour.

The girls planned and conducted a nature trail hike and cooked hobo dinners in foil. They were delighted to discover how good they could cook over open fire at Ledbetter Park.

The highlight of the hike and cookout was a special haunted house skit the girls originated themselves.

Honor Award Presented To Mr. Law

The Mary Hardin-Baylor Honor Award was presented to Mr. C. R. Law of Cameron Saturday, May 10, during commencement exercises held at Mary Hardin-Baylor College.

This award pays tribute to individuals who have been outstanding in support of the college through their loyal gifts, services, or representation at Mary Hardin Baylor College in their community.

Mr. Law has served three consecutive three year terms as a member of the Board of Trustees. He has actively recruited and assisted students. Mr. Law has supported the college financially and has been instrumental in securing grants from Foundations and establishing Memorial Trusts for the college.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

If you're any kind of a shooter you'll be interested in what Bill R. Davidson had to say following the World Shooting Championship held in Phoenix several years ago, especially if you're a woman.

Bill is a contributing editor to The American Rifleman and reported some very interesting and important comments made by the coach of the American team, retired Marine Colonel Walter Walsh.

America's team placed second to Russia, which country entered 42 shooters against 34 on the U. S. squad. Russia won 45 medals; U. S. 34.

Coach Walsh stated that revived government support of civilian shooting is necessary if the United States is to surpass the Soviets in International shooting competition.

In Walsh's opinion virtual abandonment of the citizen marksmanship programs by the government had seriously harmed American shooting. He pointed out that we didn't have enough top junior talent coming along; that there must be some kind of government support of the civilian markmanship program; and we must reorient our thinking away from the public's growing idea that anyone who fires a gun is some kind of nut.

Lack of interest on the part of the female shotgun shooters was pointed out by Walsh, who commented that we have a good many high-skilled women "who could have competed successfully" but they didn't show up for the team tryouts.

"The basic American attitude toward the International shooting game must change too," said Coach Walsh, who emphasized that it is quite different from the domestic kind and is not familiar to many Americans, therefore we sometimes don't develop as broad a base of skill and support as we might.

"International courses do present a greater challenge", said the coach, "since they are more difficult, but many shooters, especially shotgun shooters, don't like to see any but perfect scores come up after their names.

This is commendable, but, said Walsh, "when we have only a handful of shooters engaged periodically in International competition, we are bound to suffer to some txtent."

Evidently the coach's recommendations were heard for there is now much greater interest and participation among women than ever before — and today we have many outstanding dead-eye shooters among the fems.

It takes two to tango, but now you can ski alone.

Who would ever have thought of inventing a boat that pulls a skiier with nobody — yes, nobody — aboard the craft? That's sumpthin' — and it's here.

Complete outfit consists of a sleek two-foot high, six-foot long fiberglass boat with a three foot beam, to the stern of which is attached a 35-foot long flexible rubber-covered cable -- customarily called a tow-rope. But in this instance it serves other purposes than towing. Two of these purposes are, to guide the boat (including making of 360° and "S" turns); and to control acceleration (including take-off and up to 40 mph straight-away speed).

Despite the fact that the boat's footage is 6x3x2 its plastic body holds a built-in gasoline tank in the bow and a 40 hp jet-drive water-cooled engine in the stern. It's a trim little rig that very likely will add considerable zoom to the pleasure of skiing.

This outfit should prove the sensation of upcoming boat shows since it eliminates the need of a big, heavy, high-powered craft, a driver and an observer.

In this case the driver is the skiier. That umbilical cord, as they call it, has two handles that serve to control the boat.

Whether this skidaddling Ski-wheee is legal or not is something else. Don't know why it shouldn't be, except that safety regulations presently require that all boats towing skiiers must carry a driver and either an observer or a wide-angle rear view mirror. That likely will be a technicality which can be overlooked in this instance.

This is a great age, and our inventors come up with the doggondest things.

Only 26 Jr. High girls have signed up thus far. If no more than this want to play, the plans will be changed. If you want to play, please sign up at the jr. high office or call 7-3326.

Blind Bogey Golf Tourney Set Here

Officials at the Cameron Country Club have announced that the 45th annual Blind Bogey Tournament has been scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

There will be four flights with prizes given for the top three places in each flight. Overall individual winner will also be awarded a prize.

The tournament entry fee has been set for $10 and contestants may play either Saturday or Sunday. The 18-hole tourney will open at 7 a.m. both days.

The tourney will include a driving contest and a closest-to-the pin contest. This event will be played on the number 8 hole which is marked a par three hole.

Landowners May Apply For Catfish

AUSTIN

Landowners with fishless farm ponds have until June 1 to make application to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for catfish and sunfish.

Application forms are available from local P&W game wardens and at most department offices.

Acknowledgment of applications is made by mail and landowners will be notified 10 days to two weeks before delivery of fish is made, usually between Aug. 15 and Nov. 1.

Those who have approved applications will be advised of the time and place to pick up their fish and the amount of pond water to bring with them.

Ted Lowman, P&W hatchery coordinator, said that in order for owners to receive fish their ponds must never have been stocked with the requested species, the ponds must have dried and refilled or they must have had all fish chemically removed since the last request.

"Applications are maintained on department computers to prevent duplication of requests," said Lowman.

As yet, sunfish, catfish, and largemouth bass are provided free of charge to private pondowners.

The deadline for largemouth bass applications was Jan. 1 for delivery this spring.

Lowman also pointed out that federal hatcheries are discontinuing their deliveries to private waters.

Yoe Shares District Crown

Elgin Stops Yoe In Final, 5-4

The Cameron Yoemen allowed 2 runs in the seventh inning to drop their final outing 5-2, Saturday at Yoe Field. The loss also sent the district race into a co-championship with Austin Westlake.

Elgin jaunted into a third inning lead over the Yoemen when 2 runners crossed the homeplate.

Ricky Kemp was allowed first base on a wild pitch followed by Arthur Brehend who drew a fourth ball call.

Phillip Wood powered his way to first to load the bases with a single down the power alley.

Ricky Perez drew the blood for Elgin when he popped a double that gave Kemp and Brehend passage to homeplate and the 2-0 lead.

Elgin added insurance to the scoreboard by scoring in their half of the fifth.

Arthur Brehend took first via base on balls. He was sacrificed around the third and Rickey Perez stepped to the batters box.

Perez cleared a hard-hit single to gain another RBI by scoring Brehend.

The Yoemen rallied in their half of the fifth to gain 3 runs in the "do or die" game.

Gene Kopriva stepped to the batter's box and drew a walk followed by a power single by Randy Sapp.

Joe Smitherman drew another walk to fill the bags then Joey Mondrik tagged the hardball into right field to score Kopriva and Sapp.

Gary Hornung aced an RBI with a single to score Smitherman.

Ricky Kelley pounded out a single that ended the inning when Joey Mondrik was called out at the plate on a try for the score.

The Yoemen secured the lead in the sixth innng.

Gene Kopriva singled to start off the sixth, follwed by a perfect sacrifice by Randy Sapp.

Joe Smitherman was called up next and gained first the right to first base via a walk. Kopriva stole third base.

Jeff Smitherman tapped a grounder to short the was called out but allowed Kopriva to score.

In Elgin's half of the seventh, Glenn Gruetzner popped a single and was followed by Perez, who walked.

David Graham struck out but the ball got away and Graham scampered to first and was called safe.

Murray Moore hit a single that gave Gruetzner and Perez into home to give Elgin a 5-4 lead via the 2 unearned runs.

The loss put the Yoemen a 7-3 in the district race and knotted them even with Austin Westlake. Westlake will advance to bi-district playoffs due to a pair of wins over Yoe.

Milano Sets Benefit Play Day

A benefit Play Day has been set for the Milano School, sponsored by the Milano Roping Club to be held May 18 at 1 p.m. at the Milano roping arena.

There will be 21 events with trophies awarded to first through third places.

The events include goat sacking, sack race, boot scramble, western pleasure, barrel racing, pole bending, relays, and three types of roping.

Everyone is invited to come and join the fun and help make the benefit Play Day the best yet. All proceeds will go to the Milano schools.

Don't play to an empty house ...turn off when not in use!

Does this happen at your house? . . . When the meal is ready—everyone drops what they're doing to get to the table and leaves the radios, televisions and lights, etc. playing to an empty house. You'd be surprised how much you can save on your electric bill if your lights and appliances were turned off when not in use.

plain as the nose on your face

That's the way Grandma described things that were absolutely clear.

Religion was one of these!

Of course, she knew that theologians debate certain subjects. She sometimes lamented the fact there were so many denominations—which in her day weren't cooperating as they are now. And Granny was fully aware that a few individuals claim to be atheists or agnostics.

But the idea that God created us . . . loves us . . . seeks us . . . saves us. To Granny that was plain as the nose on your face.

As Granny often added: Even a child knows that! Every Sunday millions of them are proving her right.

Rekindling Romance

If you're like many modern married Americans, you may agree with the anonymous wit who dubbed marriage "Something made in heaven, but lived on the ground." Yet you'd like to keep your marriage as close to heavenly as possible. Fortunately, there are some things you can do that just might help.

For instance, respect, don't deplore each other's interests, and don't worry if they don't always coincide.

If you separate for the evening, you may find that absence really can make the heart grow fonder and you'll at least have something to talk about when you get back.

Another good idea is to remember your courtship days: the way you hung on each others' every word, dressed up just for each other; it worked then, it may again.

Emile Herzog called marriage "an edifice that must be built every day." Perhaps the hints here can help the two of you build yours very high.

Get away from home for a while, just the two of you together. You can arrange a room just about anywhere in the world through the reservation system of Holiday Inns and at any of those 1,700 inns you can relax and enjoy the facilities and each other.
